Dear ~~Mr. O~~ Professor Ranney,

I am profoundly embarrassed, ~~and~~ ^{before} ~~apologizing~~ ^{for} having delayed so long ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ completing this review. It is long past the deadline (it is doubtless too late now for the scheduled issue) ~~and~~ I will not bother to write a list of excuses; I can only apologize.

One setback, however, is reflected in the current manuscript. After I had gone over the Kahn book carefully in August, someone "borrowed" my copy, depriving me not only of all my marginal notes but of the enclosed letter from you specifying return address and form. ^{(I am sending copies of this letter and enclosure to} I have used a standard ^{two possible addresses;} form, and hope it is satisfactory. The current length is somewhat over the indicated 1000 words (it is about half the length of earlier drafts, which were more specific) & if you ^{find your} cannot accomodate it in its present length, I have indicated ^{marked on} ~~by pencilled brackets~~ ^{in pencil} ~~some passages~~ ~~that indicate bracketed some passages in pencil that indicate~~ indicated possible cuts by pencilled brackets.

Sincerely yours,
